INTRODUCTION

Nineteen eighty-eight was a busy and exciting year in Fort Wayne history. On the political scene, Mayor Paul Helmke began his tenure in office and promptly announced plans to annex most of the urbanized areas of St. Joseph Township. Senator Dan Quayle became Vice-President Dan Quayle, and U.S. Representative Dan Coats was named to take Quayle's place in the Senate. Evan Bayh was elected Indiana's governor. Work finally began on the Midtowne Crossing project and on the St. Joe Road widening project. A severe drought with record-setting high temperatures struck in June and July and city water users were asked to conserve water. A war on local drug houses was declared. The community was saddened by the disastrous industrial accident at Auburn's Bastian Plating Co. that killed five men. The Fort Wayne Community Schools board became an elected board with the first members elected in November. A lawsuit brought against the school board by the Parents for Quality Education With Integration was discussed often but not settled. Frank Hopkins was brought to trial in the Sharon Lapp murder case.

The 1988 Fort Wayne Newspaper Index has increased in size by 44% this year! Over 26,000 entries in the index guide the user to specific articles in one of four local publications: The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, the Business Digest of Greater Fort Wayne (feature articles only) and Frost Illustrated (selectively indexed). The News-Sentinel is the most thoroughly indexed. All local and state news, editorials and features that originate locally are indexed. The focus of the Fort Wayne Newspaper Index is general news, public policy and business information. For that reason, sports events are not generally indexed and name indexing is not complete. Obituaries and announcements of engagements, marriages or births are not included.

The index is arranged in subject order followed by the headline, the newspaper, date and page. Editorials, guest columns, charts, graphs, and photos are indicated.

Codes used for the publications indexed are as follows:

BD	BUSINESS DIGEST OF GREATER FORT WAYNE
FI	FROST ILLUSTRATED
JG	JOURNAL-GAZETTE
NS	NEWS-SENTINEL

We wish to thank the Walter E. Helmke Library at IPFW for its continuing support and especially Ted Hunsberger for supervising the computer production of this index and Ann Rudig for her many, many hours of data entry.
